

Using the CVSA Message Board

This is the main screen for the message board.

You can see there are 4 forums:

- ~ CVSA - Main Forum
- ~ CVSA - Adult CVS Patient Forum
- ~ Cyclic Vomiting Syndrome and Mitochondrial DNA
- ~ Message Board Guidelines and Important CVSA Updates

The screenshot shows a Mozilla Firefox browser window displaying the Cyclic Vomiting Syndrome Message Board. The browser's address bar shows the URL <http://www.websitetoolbox.com/mb/cvsa>. The page title is "Cyclic Vomiting Syndrome Message Board". Below the title, there is a link to "Cyclic Vomiting Syndrome Association (CVSA) - Forums". The page indicates "Pending approval: 0 members" and "Pending email confirmation: 5 members". A welcome message for "Horanimals" is displayed, along with navigation links for "Control Panel", "Logout", "Search", and "New Posts". A table lists four forums with their respective post and thread counts and the most recent post. At the bottom, a status bar shows "7 Active Users: 2 members - 5 guests - 0 invisible".

If you click on any one of these forums (underlined), this will take you into that forum, so you can read, reply or start new topics:

While in any of the 3 forums, just click on the Message Subject to read the thread....to go back to the forum, click at the top of the screen: “Forums” Will take you to the main page showing all four forums.

As the image below shows “Forums - CVSA Main Forum - Merry Christmas” --- that means I’m in the Main Forum, reading a subject called “Merry Christmas”. If I click on CVSA - Main Forum, I’ll go back to the forum and am able to see all messages.

The “Reply” option at the top of the screen will allow me to reply to this thread. It is only visible while I’m in a particular post. This will display as “New Topic” while in the forum page.

Other features:

By clicking on “Control Panel” you can change your signature, update email information, or view private messages.

Using the “Search” feature will allow you to find many posts regarding a particular topic, i.e, “Medications” or “Sleep issues” or “Anxiety”

Finally, if you are new to the board, and still trying to feel yourself around the CVS world, it may be helpful for you to read through the “Introduce Yourself” threads, in both the Main forum and the Adult forum. This way you can ‘get to know’ the other members, and realize that all you go through, or your loved one goes through, is something that many others understand completely. It may also spark some questions of your own.

Welcome to the CVSA Message Board.

If you have any other questions, simply contact a message board Moderator.
